Canadian Drug Prices Within Reach Of All

TORONTO (CP)—Retail drug prices are within the means of the average Canadian's purchasing ability, the Canadian Pharmaceutical Manufacturers' Association told the royal commission on health services today.

"If a problem does exist, then it is with a small percentage of the population which, for reasons of sub-standard income or chronic illness, finds it difficult to purchase all commodities, including drugs," said a brief presented by Stanley Conder, general manager of the association. This is "a specialized social problem, not a general problem of cost for the typical individual in the society as a whole nor for the typical individual in the society as a whole."

The association represents 57 companies constituting the majority of major firms manufacturing and distributing prescription preparations in Canada.

URGENT CONTROL The association said no drug should be allowed on the market unless it has been manufactured under controlled conditions.

The high standards attained by most Canadian manufacturers should be made compulsory for all engaged in the industry and they should also apply to foreign drugs offered for sale in Canada. The responsibility for quality and effectiveness should be on the supplier, not the governments.

Another recommendation was that the government consider offering incentives to encourage the chemical industry to establish more facilities in Canada for producing the raw materials used in pharmaceutical production.

Gov't To Appeal Decision In Phony Mortgage Deal

VANCOUVER (CP)—The attorney-general's department announced Thursday night a British Columbia Supreme Court judgment foreclosing a mortgage will be appealed.

The Supreme Court ruled compensation to the victims would have to be paid from land registry guarantee funds.

George L. Murray, representing the attorney-general's department, said in his grounds for appeal Thursday Mr. Justice J. G. Rutan should have found the mortgage null and given judgment against the man who forged it.

He also said the judge was wrong in ordering compensation out of the land registry guarantee fund.

The legal victims were Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett and an elderly bachelor, Peter Mahirney.

Allen forged their signatures to mortgage forms and sold them to a mortgage broker, who in turn resold them to Credit Fonciere - Franco Canadian.

The homeowners knew nothing about the forgeries until Credit Fonciere asked for payment. Credit Fonciere then launched proceedings for foreclosure to let the court decide the rights of the defrauded parties.

In the reasons for his judgment, Mr. Justice Rutan said registration of the forgery in the land registry must be conclusive evidence of validity according to the system of land registration and the law.

Mr. Murray said the judge should have held Credit Fonciere was under legal obligation to check with the Bennetts before buying and registering the fake.

"WON'T LOSE HOMES" Lawyers for both sides said there is little chance the victims will lose their homes or any money.

French Forces Shelled Us Claim Algeria Insurgents

TUNIS (Reuters)—The Algerian insurgent government has complained to the Franco-Algerian cease-fire commission that French forces bombarded an insurgent army position and surrounded other units on the eastern frontier.

An Algerian information ministry spokesman said here Thursday night that "serious incidents" took place between the Tunisian frontier and the electrified fence protecting Algeria Wednesday night and Thursday. Nationalist units were still encircled by French tanks at two other points and French planes were flying over the area, he said.

An insurgent military spokesman said there had been no casualties and no exchange of fire.

The ministry spokesman said the Tunis-based provisional government has demanded an inquiry into the incidents, but ordered its forces to continue to respect the cease-fire agreement which, he said, was being jeopardized by the "aggressive action of the French forces."

In another development, information Minister Mohammed Yazid said Algerian Muslims should take "effective measures" in self-defence against European terrorist attacks in Algiers.

CHANGE POLICY?

Although he did not specify what he meant by "effective measures," his statement was interpreted as a change of the previous policy of Muslim restraint in the face of terrorist provocation.

Hope Of Ratification 'Soon' Told To Senate

WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States is still basing its power planning on the assumption that Canada will ratify the Columbia River power treaty, Charles F. Luce, Bonneville power administrator, said today.

Appearing before the Senate appropriations committee, Luce said the U.S. Pacific Northwest will be hard pressed to find sufficient power to meet all needs, with demand expected to double in the next 10 years and to double again in the following decade.

As for the Canada-U.S. Co-in that area not under construction, "we are hopeful that the Canadians will ratify the treaty soon and we will base our planning on the assumption that the treaty will be ratified."

"Importance of the treaty projects to our power supply is demonstrated by the fact that it will result in approximately 2,000,000 additional kilowatts (2,800,000 horsepower) of firm power on the Bonneville system—almost 40 per cent of our present firm power capability," Luce added.

LIBBY PROJECT WAITING

Bonneville is a federal power marketing agency in the northwestern states. Luce, whose organization comes under the U.S. interior department, said there are only three authorized dams

"Libby cannot be built without the concurrence of Canada because it would flood land in Canada," Luce said.

But he felt there were still a large number of potential hydro sites in the Columbia basin that could be developed more economically than steam electric generation and that orderly construction of these sites "should meet most of the power requirements of the Pacific Northwest until about 1975."

Touching on Bonneville's construction program for 1963, Luce said: "There is also a substantial item for a line interconnecting our system with that of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, Trail, B.C., which depends upon the issuance of an export licence which has not yet been granted—although we think we have good reason to believe that it will be granted."

'One-World' Men Chat

TORONTO (CP)—Four supporters of a single world government addressed the annual meeting of the World Federalists of Canada tonight without going further than their telephones in London, England, Kyoto, Japan, and New York.

Peter Ustinov, actor and playwright, used the trans-oceanic telephone from London to tell the meeting that "the next logical dream to the United Nations is the federation of the world."

"One hundred years from now our grandchildren will look back on us as the idealists who brought into existence world federation."

The tender call-for clearing at the site of Duncan Lake dam on the Columbia—is "to give assurance to the U.S. that B.C. was sincere."

Mr. Williston also said that national Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson "doesn't know what's in the treaty."

Global Orbit Trip Delayed For 3 Days

CAPTE ANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The round-the-world orbital flight of astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter has been delayed three days until next Tuesday to improve reliability of the parachute system of his spacecraft, Aurora VII.

The surprise announcement of the delay came late Thursday night after a mission review meeting attended by Carpenter, operations director Walter Williams and other Project Mercury officials.

Discussion centred on a question raised nearly three months ago: Why did the small stabilizing parachute on astronaut John Glenn's capsule unfurl at 27,000 feet instead of the intended 21,000 feet?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is considering resuming the $3,000,000-a-month payments to Laos if the government of Premier Boua Oum promptly begins peace negotiations for a new coalition regime pledged to neutrality.

This may mean a shakeup in the government at Vientiane centred on the present strongman, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan. Kennedy administration officials from the president down are reported to have lost confidence in Phoumi.

Associates say President Kennedy holds the general, who has led several government ministries, responsible for the military crisis in Laos during the last two weeks. He further feels that Phoumi blocked successful negotiations in the past for a coalition government, embracing pro-Western and pro-Communist leaders under a neutralist prime minister.

Until last February the United States has paid Laos about $3,000,000 a month for several years. The fund, being designed for payment of salaries for troops and police, Phoumi controls the security forces as minister of defence and minister of the interior. He also holds the post of deputy premier under Prince Boun Oum.

The payments were stopped in February as a means of putting pressure on Phoumi to drop cer-

Frost Damage to Crops Lighter Than Expected

The Daily Courier CITY PAGE

Valley Outlook Bright With Warming Weather

General cool weather conditions in the Okanagan during the first part of this week, as at the coast, are beginning to show a warming trend which should further growth of tree fruits, small fruits and vegetable crops, as reported in this week's Horticultural News Letter from the B.C. Department of Agriculture.

Vernon had a slight frost last weekend and on Tuesday, Summerland experienced a rain lasting seven to eight hours, while hail fell at Oliver and Osoyoos with minor damage last week. Kootenay weather continues cool and wet.

However, good crops are generally expected, past frosts evidently not having done damage which was at first feared.

TREE FRUITS

The coast reports that it is as yet too early to comment on set of tree fruits.

APRICOTS: Vernon reports a good crop developing. Summerland reports the crop looking better than originally appeared, and Penitence reports the trees have an unhealthy appearance with considerable variation in the size of the fruit. Thinning is underway at Penitence.

CHERRIES: General indications are for a reasonable set on cherries with good size expected.

PEACHES: Appear to be setting reasonably well at the moment.

PRUNES: Appear to be a full set at the present time.

FEARS: Bartlett's are reported to be setting lighter than usual throughout the Okanagan with excessive sloughing reported in Penitence. Anjou's are reported to be setting well throughout.

APPLES: Penitence reported the latest full bloom in seven years. Some Newtouns have failed to bloom for the second consecutive year. Summerland reports very heavy blossom on McIntosh and Winesap, heavy bloom on Delicious. There is some chemical thinning on McIntosh, but less than usual owing to unsettled weather. Delicious have been frost damaged to a limited extent in low spots and flats at Summerland and Westbank. Kelowna reports extensive use of chemical thinning on McIntosh and a few Delicious blocks. Set and effect of thinning are as yet unknown. In Vernon, McIntosh are in full bloom with not too much chemical thinning. Delicious are approaching full bloom. In Creston, McIntosh will be at full bloom this weekend.

SMALL FRUITS

RASPBERRIES: The coast reports some uneven lateral growth due to winter injury.

STRAWBERRIES: The coast reports 10 to 20 per cent bloom, poor plant color and slow growth. Some new plantings are not progressing favorably. Vernon reports early fields are coming into blossom.

BLUEBERRIES: 50 per cent at the coast.

FILBERTS: Slight frost damage at the coast with resultant reduction in crop expected.

VEGETABLES

CUCUMBERS: Field slicing cucumbers are being seeded at the coast. Vernon reports local 61.

transplants have been set out under hotcaps, with some slight frost damage on the weekend.

TOMATOES: Early transplants are going out at the coast. Hothouse tomato picking in Vernon is expected to begin in ten days. Field tomatoes are being set out now. Summerland report very few set out so far.

CABBAGE: Early cabbage is doing well at Vernon.

PEPPERS: Transplants in cold frames and greenhouses doing well. A few have been set out, but general transplanting will be next week, Vernon reports.

POTATOES: Earlies at the coast are recovering satisfactorily from a frost on May 7. Weed control is a problem due to low temperatures. Vernon reports earlies above ground and doing well.

ONIONS: Both fall and spring planted doing well in Vernon. Kelowna reports spring seeded onions are now past the flag stage. They are growing well on increased acreage. Acreage of fall planted onions is up 20 per cent from last year in the Kelowna district.

ASPARAGUS: Four days pick was lost due to frost over the weekend at Vernon but the harvest of a good crop at Vernon and Kelowna is again under way and nearing the peak.

PEAS: Seeding at the coast is late, but now progressing.

BEANS: Planting underway at Kelowna and Vernon.

Born in Brough, East Yorkshire he came to Canada in 1910 to farm in the Wallaceton country and shortly after moved to the Salmon Arm area where he farmed until 1951 when he came to Kelowna 10 years ago.

From 1920 on, he was a fruit inspector in the Nelson, Rutland and finally Cache Creek districts and was behind much of the campaign for B.C. Tree Fruits in its formative years. He was also a life member of the BCFGA.

He is survived by his wife, Margery, one son, A. J. D. "Den" Meek of Victoria, four grandchildren and two sisters. Clarke and Bennett were entrusted with the arrangements.

Senior Citizens Honor Provincial President

Kelowna's senior citizens members of the Rutland Senior Citizens' Club, a recently formed branch.

The ladies in the club outdid themselves with salads and sliced meats, pickles and rolls and mountains of home-baked pies and other goodies served.

Mr. Kelly, who said he'd made a promise when elected president at last year's provincial convention held in Kelowna he'd visit all the branches in B.C., told members Kelowna was his fourth stop since Monday. He commended the local branch on their excellent handling of last year's convention which he said "set a high standard which will be hard to follow."

He also said he has visited 24 branches in the provinces, had several impromptu suppers and soon will have the "top to prove it."

This year's Senior Citizens convention will be held in New Westminster. Local delegates include Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wood and Mrs. McDonald.

C. G. Clement Here 62 Years Dies At 95

A Kelownian since 1900, well-known citizen Charles George Clement died Thursday at the age of 95.

A funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Chapel of Remembrance with Rev. K. Imayoshi officiating. Interment will be in Kelowna cemetery.

Mr. Clement, a contractor for many years here until he retired about 1937, laid the first cement sidewalks in the city.

Born in Strathroy, Ont., he came west with his family at the age of 11 to Manitoba and to Kelowna in 1900. Mr. and Mrs. Clement were married the following year.

He was a member and ardent worker for the First Baptist Church and last fall officiated at a sod-turning for the new church building.

Mr. Clement is survived by his wife, Alice, one son James in Surrey, and two daughters in Kelowna, Mrs. E. L. Adams (Etelle) and Mrs. G. K. Anderson (Alice), eight grandchildren and a brother, Percy Clement in Victoria. One son George predeceased in 1940.

Legion Trip To Britain Ends Tuesday

The Royal Canadian Legion's trip to Britain ends Tuesday when some 100 members arrive at Penitence after a five-week sojourn.

There are 58 members from Kelowna alone.

The delegation left Penitence five weeks back, arriving in Prestwick, Scotland. Many of the travellers went on to Europe and other parts.

Members of the Kelowna Legion will drive to Penitence to meet the plane which arrives at 5 a.m.

Cloudy Skies Forecast Here

Clouds! Clouds! Clouds! This is today's forecast for local weather which calls for mostly dull skies and a few showers today and Saturday.

Temperatures will remain about at par with the past few weeks with overnights in the 40's.

In the north country, conditions are about the same but a ridge of high pressure moving eastward from the Gulf of Alaska will bring clearing skies tomorrow and warmer temperatures.

However, cloudiness here is expected to continue through to Saturday.

SCOUTERS MARK 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Nostalgia was at a high ebb Thursday night when more than 500 turned out at Centennial Hall for the 50th anniversary of scouting in the Central Okanagan. Troop displays including many old photographs highlighted the evening with refreshments included. Looking over an old picture here are Mrs. Maude Roxby, Cub Master of the First Kelowna Wolf Cub pack for many years; A. M. Thompson, of Westbank, very active in scouting in the Central Okanagan for years; and Orville Zander, regional executive commissioner for Okanagan Mainline. Ben Grant, president of the District Council, officially opened the celebration. Most of the evening was taken up by the renewal of old acquaintances and the viewing of various projects.

Columbia Treaty Must Be Signed Quickly

The Columbia River treaty has not yet become a very live issue in the federal election campaign, even in British Columbia. There are indications that none of the parties are particularly anxious that the subject should become a very live issue. Although, of course, the reasons for this are as varied as the parties themselves.

As far as the Conservatives and the Social Credit parties are concerned, it would appear they are quite willing to let the matter simply lie until after the election. All signs suggest that Victoria and Ottawa have reached an agreement on the Columbia development. If not in detail, certainly in principle. This was suggested following the talks between Mr. Fleming and Mr. Bennett and Victoria has given strength to the suggestion by calling for tenders on the Duncan Lake dam. While it is true that the tenders will not be opened until after the general election, and the calling of tenders does not necessarily mean that contracts will be awarded, still it is inconceivable that Victoria would have gone so far without some reasonable certainty that the provincial-federal dispute would be settled.

The situation as this newspaper sees it is that the general terms of an agreement have been reached and after the election—provided the Diefenbaker government is still in power—the remaining details will be quickly worked out, the treaty ratified and the work commenced. We could be quite wrong, but that is our guess.

It is not unnatural, however, to ask why, if this is the case, some announcement is not made now. Again, speculation suggests that the ill-considered words of one uniformed man spiked any possibility of an announcement at this time.

It will be remembered that Hon. Howard Green was in Europe during part of the Fleming-Bennett negotiations. On his return in the House of Commons he was asked a question about the Columbia Treaty. Unfortunately he had just returned and apparently had not been briefed on the progress of the talks. He stated that no action would be taken on the Columbia affair until a committee of the House had had a chance to debate it.

Obviously, such an unfortunate statement tied the hands of his colleagues—until after the election at least. To ignore Mr. Green's statement would have only provided very hot fuel for the opposition parties to the considerable embarrassment of the government. This, we think, is the present situation. After the election is over, and if the government is returned, Mr. Green's statement could be passed over and action taken quickly.

Mr. Pearson, the Liberal leader, seems to have an undecided stand on the whole Columbia matter. He has said that if his party is elected, it will be re-examined and renegotiated with the United States. This is rather puzzling because during the long-continued argument, the Liberals in Ottawa in no way indicated that they found the terms of the treaty unacceptable until General McNaughton's outburst a few weeks ago.

Liberal candidates are reported to have stated that the whole matter could be cleared up "in a week." This newspaper is not naive enough to believe this. If Mr. Pearson is going to re-examine and re-negotiate the treaty, the plain fact is that the Columbia development will be delayed for not weeks, not months, but years. Any thinking person must acknowledge this. Moreover, if the Columbia development is not commenced soon, very soon, it never will be commenced because the United States will have lost all interest and commenced other plans for power development.

It is very difficult to understand the Liberal position on this question. It may have been taken in the hope that it might influence the result in the election in a couple of seats in this province. On the other hand, the great majority of the people of the southern half of this province are anxious to see work on the Columbia started just as soon as possible. Indeed they are disappointed that work did not start this spring. These people can only be antagonized by the Liberal stand for they see clearly that the Liberal program would mean further indefinite but long delay in commencement of work on the Columbia. If indeed it did not kill the project altogether.

THE GREAT LEAP BACKWARD

Canada Takes Direct Hand In Study Of Human Rights

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Canada is taking a direct hand in the United Nations commission that deals with human rights—with the ideal of extending freedom to all mankind and, notably, womankind.

Following election by the parent Economic and Social Council, Canada takes its seat Jan. 1 next in the UN Commission on Human Rights. Its term will run for three years.

It is Canada's first election to the body which has been increased to 21 from 18 members and which, ironically enough, has been organized and led by a Canadian since its inception in 1946.

Pakistan and India are other Commonwealth members along with Britain, a permanent member—and Canada sat in as an observer during a recent commission meeting that discussed such things as "the right of everyone to be free from arbitrary arrest, detention and exile."

John P. Humphrey, native of Hampton, N.B., had been appointed dean of law at McGill University just before he was called in 1946 to organize the new UN division.

"The UN's work in human rights has influenced our generation although sometimes in a rather subtle, intangible way," Humphrey, 56, once said in an interview.

"I admit that our preoccupation with human rights is a symptom in itself that things aren't good. The UN's concern is largely the reflection of a pretty bad situation."

"It's only when you look at the thing in perspective that you can feel you're getting anywhere. From day to day—no. But over a period of time—yes."

Humphrey — whose job has made him one of the UN's most tireless globe-trotters—was in Tokyo for a meeting and a reporter was received at the commission's headquarters in New York by his deputy, Egon Schwelb, a Czech who now has British nationality. Schwelb recalled that the commission's first task was to prepare an International Bill of Rights, paralleling on the international plane what some countries, including Canada, have on their own books.

"Faced with the problem, we weren't sure what it meant," said Schwelb.

Should it be a proclamation of principles, or an international treaty, legally binding on countries?

"As is usual in UN affairs, the outcome was a compromise," Schwelb added.

The bill was divided into sections, the first being the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Although Humphrey—as an international civil servant—often works behind the scenes as compared with national delegates, it is known he wrote the first draft of the declaration. Accepted by the UN General Assembly in Paris in December, 1948, it proclaims that all human beings are entitled "to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this declaration without distinction of any kind such as race, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status."

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Morton's Toe Drivers' Foe

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about "Morton's Toe"? I drive a truck and sometimes the pain is so severe that I can hardly apply the brake.

I had a pair of arch supports fitted—the doctor claims my metatarsal arches cause this burning pain under my third and fourth toes, especially on my right foot, and that pressing on the brake started the trouble.

After seven months I still get pains every day. Is surgery the only cure? — C. B.

Morton's Toe (or Morton's Disease) is named after the surgeon, Thomas G. Morton, who first described this trouble painful usually involving the base of the fourth toe.

The cause: Apparently a relaxed or faulty arch, along with a callus on the ball of the foot, put excess pressure on that joint and perhaps pinches or irritates a nerve there.

Narrow shoes, and, if present, a plantar wart (wart on the plantar part of the foot, or the sole) aggravate things.

It's not surprising that pressing the brake with such a damaged foot is agonizing; I would doubt, though, that braking started the trouble.

The first efforts to alleviate the trouble include shoes built up with padding to support the arch. A metatarsal bar on the shoe sole sometimes helps. Exercises and massage to strengthen foot muscles, and hot applications to ease muscle spasm may be beneficial.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

May 18, 1962 . . .

The ill-fated League of Nations, its failure to maintain world peace undermined by the just-ended Second World War, was formally dissolved 16 years ago today—in 1946. Its successor, the United Nations, moved into its new headquarters building in New York five years later, May 18, 1951. 1785—Saint John, N.B., became the first incorporated city in Canada. 1804—Napoleon Bonaparte was proclaimed Emperor of France.

But when these are not enough, it sometimes is found that the pain is basically due to a neuroma, or tumor of the nerve in that part of the foot, and surgical removal of the tumor is the obvious recourse.

Since C. B. is still in pain after seven months with the special shoes, I certainly think his next visit should be to an orthopedist—a bone specialist. He may or may not find surgery advisable, but there's no reason why C. B. should have to continue suffering.

(Morton's Toe occurs in both men and women, but more often in women, perhaps due to their footwear, which doesn't give as much support as men's. Besides, you know the reputation women have for cramming their feet into shoes a size too short or too narrow. The trouble usually doesn't occur until after age 30.)

Dear Dr. Molner: You haven't given any diet for arthritis.—J. W.

No, because, despite certain quacks, I don't think diet has anything to do with arthritis in its varied forms with these three qualifications:

1. A balanced diet helps, just as in almost any condition of health or illness.

2. If the patient is overweight, a reducing diet is decidedly helpful because it takes excess weight off the painful joints.

3. A low-purine diet is sometimes recommended for patients with gout, although currently there is less belief in its importance.

Dear Dr. Molner: Recently I have noticed a peculiar odor in the urine. Is this serious, or an indication of disease? My health is excellent.—M. K.

Various foods can cause an odor—asparagus is notable.

Odor can be present, too, because of infection but then there should be other symptoms: Frequency, burning, or fever. Cystitis in women and prostate enlargement in men also can cause some stagnation and hence odor. A single urine test will reveal whether infection exists.

PACT SIGNED

A European convention—including all West European countries except France—was signed in 1950, based on the declaration, and this also embodies machinery to "supervise and guarantee" the rights set forth.

A European court for this purpose, albeit circumscribed and limited, is in being.

The declaration has frequently been invoked in General Assembly debates. It has affected national practices and been written into the constitutions of new countries, notably those of the French community and—from the European convention—those of the Commonwealth.

Far more difficult to draft were international laws—conventions—on human rights, and it was not until 1954 that the commission came up with two covenants—one dealing with civil and political rights and the other with economic, social and cultural matters.

The General Assembly—the UN's sovereign body—has been able to reach agreement on only a few articles each year.

Faith in the equal rights of men and women has been a cardinal tenet of the UN from the start. A classic example of discrimination against women was that they had political rights in only half the countries of the world before the UN Charter was signed.

GAIN EQUALITY

Now, more than 90 countries—there are 104 UN members in all—have granted women full political rights, thus giving them a weapon to achieve equality in other fields.

UN member states have been invited to provide triennial reports on progress in human rights but many—including much-criticized South Africa—have not complied and this is a continuing cause of friction.

The commission has undertaken global studies of specific rights and "groups of rights," such as the procedures of various countries regarding arrest and exile. Findings can be used as at least moral ammunition against offenders.

Another important function of the commission is in the field of advisory services, originally conceived as a kind of technical assistance program in human rights.

But, as Schwelb put it, "a country may be willing to admit that it needs help to build bridges, but it isn't likely to admit that it needs help in granting its people human rights."

SMALL INCREASE

Canada's gross national product at $36,800,000,000 in 1961 was 2.6 per cent above 1960.

OTTAWA REPORT

Yoyo Dollar Now Stable

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
The re-entry of our dollar within the corral of international discipline has been applauded in other countries as the return of the prodigal to monetary obedience.

Since Mr. St. Laurent's Liberal government cut our dollar loose in the fall of 1950, it had been allowed to fluctuate freely in the foreign exchange market, in defiance of the rules of the International Monetary Fund.

Our "yo-yo" dollar has had a roller-coaster career in the past two decades. It was pegged at a value of 90½ U.S. cents all through the war; in July 1946 it was repegged at parity with the U.S. dollar; in September 1949 it was devalued to 90 U.S. cents and pegged there; exactly one year later it was cut loose and allowed to drift, promptly finding its way to 87 cents. Later it settled down to a perhaps superficially prideful but certainly destructive career of debauchery at an unjustifiable premium over the U.S. dollar.

ACT TO SAVE JOBS

After nearly a decade of erosion of large sections of our economy, the Conservative government last June said that this premium must cease: Finance Minister Fleming declared that he would reduce our dollar to a realistic value. This intent was widely applauded by economists, industrialists, and even by Mr. Fleming's political foes among the Liberal Opposition.

"The elimination of the premium on the Canadian dollar is certainly a worthwhile objective," Parliament was told by Liberal leader Lester Pearson, who added "We have been saying that for a long time."

"I fully agree with the objective of having the Canadian dollar at a level that will enable us to meet foreign competition," chorused Hon. Paul Martin who, like Mr. Pearson, had been a member of the Liberal Cabinet which initially headed our dollar towards a premium.

Mr. Fleming was as good as his word. Within nine months he had brought our dollar's exchange value down from 105 U.S. cents to 95. Then, on 1st of this month, he declared that he would lead the western world's monetary black sheep back into the fold of the International Monetary Fund, and peg its exchange value at 93½ U.S. cents.

Now the strange thing about this operation is that the gradual reduction of our dollar's value from 105 to 95 U.S. cents had been almost unanimously approved while it was happening from last June to this March. But the additional reduction by one quarter of that size, namely 2½ cents, precipitated storms of criticism from some sectors which matched the roars of applause from others.

DOLLARS AND SENSE

The arguments for and against devaluation are at this stage largely speculative, although the probable future pattern can be roughly predicted.

The reduce value of our dollar will correct the worst difficulties faced by our export industries and tourist trade during the premium era. Our dollar worth 105 U.S. cents was like our exporters having to hide an additional duty of 5 per cent when trying to sell in foreign markets; similarly it made our holiday resorts automatically an extra 5 per cent more costly to foreigners. At the same time, that premium helped foreign manufacturers to compete successfully in the Canadian market against Canadian producers; hence it became almost a patriotic campaign to "Buy Canadian"—even if it did hit us in the pocketbook.

Now the exporters and the tourist promoters and the manufacturers feel happier; and there will be sure to be many more job opportunities for Canadians in Canada.

The critics, on the other hand, suggest that we will all be hurt because our cost of living will rise. It will. The cost of those goods which we buy abroad, largely from U.S.A., will rise by 2½ per cent. We spent half our income on goods, so this price rise will cost the average Canadian family just three cents per day O.T. of course that ACF could avoid that extra burden by "Buying Canadian," whose price will not rise 2½ per cent.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

HE'S COMMITTED

Editor, Kelowna Daily Courier

Dear Sir:

Two or three years ago there were 700 million bushels of wheat stored up in Canada.

With very few buyers, the farmers were on a quota system. We were limited to selling two bushels per acre so our buying power was also limited, and our families deprived of the good things of life.

Things looked hopeless for us many farmers. Wheat was our main source of livelihood and our families and many merchants depended on us for their livelihood as did Canada in general.

The Conservative government found ways and means of disposing of more than half of the huge surplus which is now down to 300 million bushels. Also farmers are no longer on a quota.

It shows that the Conservative government has been working for the people.

So that is the party I'm voting for in the coming election.

WE LIKE IT TOO

To Kelowna, Well Folks:

On my month-long bus tour down the Okanagan and back up to Williams Lake via the Fraser Valley, I have reached Kelowna and am about to leave for Penticton.

I find Kelowna a very engaging city. Among its chief features to me are first, its lovely and varied recreational facilities, stressing children and young people, with lots of places for elderly people to quietly walk or rest, including a Senior Citizens' Club.

Then there is traffic. Seldom have I seen such courtesy, and it would seem to me, more by mutual consent rather than by rules, regulations or law. The bicycle in all its varieties seems to be the most popular mode of transportation. Ordinary bikes, bicycles built for two and, if you please, push bicycles and everything ridden by all ages, 8 to 80 years.

Many of the buildings are truly attractive, chief among them the Post Office and City Hall. They are quite distinctive. Ranky-tung and hoodlum elements did not exist as far as I could see.

The weather has been cool and cloudy, but even at that, it has been a delight to stroll among all this greenery, blossom and flowers.

What it may be to live here I don't know, but this is one visitor's eye view of Kelowna and its friendly people.

ARTHUR KNOX,

FAMILIARIZATION

Editor, Kelowna Daily Courier

Dear Sir:

In the issue of the "Courier" of Friday, May 11th, there was a news item on Page three headlined, "BRIGHT STU-

DENTS' CLASS MAY SHOW RHODES SCHOLAR

The item related to a plan for enriched instruction for a special class of students from Grades 5 and 6 and the last paragraph read,

"As one school board member remarked: We are always hearing that top scholarships are being won everywhere but here. There is no doubt there are potential top scholars here, perhaps a Rhodes scholar or two. This class will be the means to discover them."

Anyone reading this article could only draw the inference that no Kelowna student had ever won a Rhodes scholarship. The fact is that only four years ago a boy who was born in Kelowna and had all his pre-university schooling here was named as Rhodes Scholar from British Columbia. This was Wayne Hubble, the son of S. V. Hubble of 1631 Ethel Street.

Since completing his studies under the Rhodes scholarship, Wayne has been with the federal Department of External Affairs. He has for about a year travelled with the Minister of External Affairs for the purposes of liaison between the Minister and the Department. By chance, he was in Kelowna in this non-political capacity with the Minister, the Honourable Howard Green, the same day as this article appeared.

I feel that this points up a place where Kelowna falls somewhat. I do not think that we give the recognition to scholastic achievements that we give to success in other fields. A Rhodes scholarship is the Pulitzer Prize of the scholastic world in the English-speaking countries and, to say the least, is a B.C. championship in a field where the competitors are of the highest calibre. Certainly any summary for the year or for a number of years covering the achievement of Kelowna, its teams and citizens, should include this honour to keep it from being forgotten for at least a few years.

I may say that this is not directed at your paper or any other medium or person in particular; I realize that your Social Editor, Mrs. Evans, included an account of Wayne's activities only a month or so ago. I did feel however that the news item last Friday suggested that this was something with which people generally were not as familiar as they were with lesser achievements of the same period.

Yours truly,
D.C. FILMORE

BIBLE BRIEF

For thou saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.—Isaiah 57:15.

God delights in the company of those who are "poor in spirit" and whose hearts are bowed in penitence.

Picture Of Today

"The poorer citizens have captured the government and voted the property of the rich into the coffers of the state for redistribution among the voters. Politicians have strained their ingenuity to discover new sources of public revenue. They have doubled the indirect taxes, such as customs due on imports and exports. They have continued the extraordinary taxes of wartime into peacetime. They have broadened perilously the field of the income tax as well as the property tax.

"One of our wisest says, 'when I was a boy, wealth was regarded as secure and admirable—but now a man has to defend himself against being rich as if it were the worst of crimes. Athletics has become professionalized; young citizens who once thronged the playgrounds or the gymnasium now exert themselves vicariously by witnessing professional exhibitions. Philosophy has struggled to find in civic loyalty or in a national ethic some substitute for the divine commandments and the surveillance of God."

A fairly accurate, if somewhat depressing, commentary on our times, though it was made some time ago, in 363 B.C. to be exact. Socrates was the philosopher who penned the lines. We use them here, in this year of grace 1962, to remind ourselves and our readers that men haven't changed too much over the centuries. In fact about the only difference between human failings today and the human failings of a few thousand years ago is that there are more of us demonstrating them.

Fishing For Fun, Booths, Pony Rides Popular At Fiesta Fair

Weather, Wonderful Displays Draw Hundreds To Annual Hospital Day

By FLORA EVANS
Throngs of people attended the Fiesta Fair sponsored this Wednesday by the Junior Hospital Auxiliary and held on the Kelowna hospital grounds. Sunshine, warm temperatures and a multitude of attractions drew like bees to honey for this annual event.

The lawns were gay with sun umbrellas, garden chairs and dozens of gaily decorated booths. There was the sound of children's happy voices as they buzzed about among special attractions just for them. And even a number of fathers and husbands were scattered among the crowd of feminine fairgoers.

LOTS FOR THE KIDS
Young fry were attracted to the fish pond, a hoopla booth and a dart game where Bill Jennings dressed as a clown in bright satins and a big red nose was selling balloons and to a George Holland and her helpers.

By 2:30, the home-cooking booths were already running low in supply; in fact the Kelowna booth under convener Mrs. H. Henderson was practically sold out of the myriads of goodies that had been displayed.

Blossom Ball Will Be June 9
The regular monthly meeting of the Kelowna Branch Registered Nurses Association of B.C. was held in the Nurses' Residence Tuesday.

President of the local chapter Mrs. W. Wolleswinkel was in the chair. Reports of the B.C. Registered Nurses' Association meeting held at Hollywood House, Victoria, May 10-11 were given by delegates Mrs. Wolleswinkel, Mrs. M. Upton, Mrs. W. Ratcliff and Miss Sheila Blackie. They reported a very interesting and pleasant two day session and very well attended.

Forty-one Nurses Chapters representing 8,724 B.C. Registered Nurses had delegates in attendance.

BLOSSOM BALL
Plans for the Blossom Ball to be held in the Kelowna Aquatic Pavilion, Saturday, June 9, were finalized. Conveners are Misses R. Hnatluk and E. Hak. Dr. D. Clark, South Okanagan Health Unit, gave a history of Public Health Work in Kelowna giving credit to the late Dr. Oatman, the first Public Health Officer for his work during the polio epidemic in 1930. He then spoke of the new Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine which was perfected in 1959. It has been tried all over the world for the last three years, especially in Russia and the United States.

The local Health Unit has forty thousand doses available and hopes in the next two weeks that the people of the South Okanagan will avail themselves of the opportunity to have a lifetime immunity from polio.

A question and answer period followed.

Pretty Shower In East Kelowna
EAST KELOWNA—A miscellaneous shower was held at the Community hall in honor of Miss Heather Murrell whose marriage to Kenneth Ingram takes place Saturday at Okanagan Mission's St. Andrew's Church.

Gifts were arranged amid lovely spring blossoms on a long decorated table. The bride-to-be and her mother were presented with corsages. The groom's mother, Mrs. Ingram and her daughter, Miss Jean Ingram assisted them with unwrapping the many and useful gifts admired by all. Afternoon tea was later served.

The hall was gaily decorated for the recent East Kelowna ten dances when a crowd of 200 enjoyed dancing to the Pacers. Refreshments were served. The dance was sponsored by the Recreation Commission. In attendance were J. Reid, D. Lawrence and F. Thorneley.

The Winfield booth convened by Mrs. D. Dehne, president of the Winfield Auxiliary, also did a thriving business in home-cooking, needlework and plants and were selling raffle tickets on a copper work and an Eskimo doll.

BOOTHS GALORE!
Cooked meats, potato salads and delicious relishes were offered at the delicatessen booth in charge of Mrs. R. C. Whillits. Mrs. Maurice Meikle, Mrs. Mary Joyce, Mrs. D. M. Elsdon and Mrs. Bob Lennie who managed most efficiently to keep customers supplied.

The auction without noise! This was the novel way Mrs. T. F. McWilliams, convener of the Dutch auction, ran her booth. Bids for the various attractive articles in the stall were put in decorated boxes and at 4 p.m. highest bidders for each were announced as winners.

Very popular, too, was the mouth-watering display of candy in a booth in charge of Mrs. A. Gahn and Mrs. L. Allen and of course, soft drink, hot dog and ice cream stands did a booming business for the Fair.

Afternoon, the ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary served delightful afternoon tea under the convenship of past president, Mrs. Cameron Day in the absence of president Mrs. A. R. Fortin who is on vacation abroad.

SWINGING PARTNERS
By M. J. I.
Square dance jamborees, festivals and institutes are being enjoyed in all parts of Canada and the States and will be popular throughout the summer.

Dancers who travelled to Kamloops to enjoy their jamboree really did have a wonderful time. The four clubs did a marvelous job of planning the dance. The sound in the arena, this year, was very good and Joe Hall of Seattle called a splendid program at the Saturday night jamboree. Ernie Funk of Kamloops was the emcee for the after-party and featured various guest callers including Ray Fredrickson of Summerland and Chuck Ingalls of Peachland.

Dancers from the various Valley clubs represented the Okanagan. Also last Saturday night, here in the Valley was square dance night in Westbank with the Westside Squares hosting their monthly party night. Bill French of Oroville was the emcee and a delicious buffet supper was provided by the hosts.

ANN LANDERS

Other Woman To Be Pitied

Dear Ann Landers: Since your column seems to be a clearing house for soul barers, I'd like to add my confession. Maybe someone will learn from it. Perhaps just getting it down on paper will make me feel better. I was married to a fine man, but I craved a little excitement beyond the ordinary duties of home and family. So I went back to work after 15 years.

I was flattered by the attention of one of the big wheels in the office. I found myself dressing fit to kill every day. I even darkened the gray out of my hair. And then I became involved in a full-blown affair with a fascinating smoothie who was five years my junior.

At first the romance was like a tonic. I felt rejuvenated and attractive again. It was as if the calendar had been turned back 15 years. But believe me the heartache and torture wasn't worth it. Now I feel twice as old and far more miserable than if no one had ever looked at me.

I found out after two years of being a blind fool that the Love Affair of the century was being sandwiched in between three others. Women were his hobby. The house had girl friends all over the building.

I am loaded with guilt and remorse and filled with fear that my Casanova may pass the word to his associates. But worst of all I'm ashamed for having been such a dumbbell. Thanks for letting me get this off my chest.—BRAINLESS

Dear Ann Landers: Our neighbors have a seven-foot hedge down their property line. Their house is on the corner so the hedge constitutes a traffic hazard. Cars turning from our street into the street which is parallel to the hedge can't see the oncoming cars.

We called the police to report this danger. Their answer was: "The people own the property and they have a right to erect a seven foot concrete wall on it if they want to."

We even went to these neighbors and asked them to clip the hedge down a few feet in the interest of safety. The woman replied that the hedge helps reduce the noise from the street and it need not be a traffic hazard if people are careful. What do we do now?

—PORTLAND
Dear Portland: Now you do nothing but wait for the big crash—and hope it isn't someone dear to you. Unhappily, similar hazards are found in many places. Usually it takes a tragic accident to produce action. The people who wouldn't co-operate are heartless, and the law moves in and insists on removal of the hazard.

Dear Ann Landers: Your letter from "Constant Cook" made me laugh. This woman complains because her husband comes home for lunch. I wonder what she'd do if she had to cook for my crew.

I'm a farmer's wife. I prepare three large meals every day, plus an evening snack. Besides my husband and four children there's an assortment of hired hands. During the planting and harvesting months, the number of place-settings goes up to 12.

Cooking for farm hands would drive the average woman nuts. There are hay-boys who don't like vegetables, middle-aged men with touchy stomachs and grandpas who are minus half their teeth.

But I get a kick out of meals because of the interesting conversation. The men talk about the sick cow, and how her personality has changed, whether the storm hurt the crops and how much the hogs ought to bring at market. It makes all the work worthwhile.

I was going to sign this "Another Constant Cook" but I think instead I'll sign it —LUCKY FARMER'S WIFE.

Mr. Nancollas and all male Salmon Arm residents are growing beards for the city's golden jubilee set for August 2-5. Councillors met in Armstrong for the quarterly Okanagan Valley Municipal Association meeting Thursday.

Lumby Mill Rate Lower: Legions Water Rates Cut

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Tax rate in Lumby has been set at 41 mills. This is a decrease over last year's figure of 41.35 mills. The budget by-law, which has now been adopted, gives the municipality 25 mills and 18 allocated for Lumby's portion of school costs. Lumby branch, Royal Canadian Legion will also enjoy a reduction of water rates. At the Legion's request, monthly rates have been cut from $12 to $10. Commissioners also learned that the village water meter would have to be shipped to California for the needed repairs. A great deal of discussion developed concerning the water pressure problem being experienced by those homes above Catt Avenue. Because they are so close to the reservoir, there is not enough pressure to get water in their homes if they have a tap turned on outside. There are about six homes involved at present. Two solutions are being considered, the least expensive would be individual pressure tanks or one big pressure unit for the entire section. Engineers estimate place cost of the latter at about $6,000. It was finally decided to take pressure readings then investigate the problems and solutions of other towns in the area.

Kelowna Strongly Against Truck Licences Change

ARMSTRONG (Staff) — Municipalities in the Okanagan were urged to join a new field of licensing commercial vehicles in the province. But the suggestion met with stiff opposition by Kelowna. At the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association here Thursday, C. S. J. McKelvey, an officer in the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, New Westminster said organized areas in the province stood to split $1,000,000 in revenues under the new plan, compared to $750,000. However, each city wishing to participate must pass legislation by November, 1962, he said. Under the new plan trades

No Other Licence Needed

Under the new scheme no other licence to operate a commercial vehicle would be necessary and operators would be at liberty to travel anywhere in the province. However if a licensed vehicle travelled into an unlicensed area, then that community could charge for a separate trades licence. Certain vehicles such as government and farm would be exempt. Mr. McKelvey admitted Ald. Winter's suggestion for licensing had been proposed to the government but Victoria vetoed the idea. He said the government would not up the initial licence fee by $1,000,000 as "it would look bad in the eyes of the public." Instead the new proposal, which will derive the same revenue and is in effect the exact same increase, would be handled in a different method and the responsibility of the municipality. Cities to adopt the plan would receive no revenue from transient vehicles as now. Ald. Winter asked: "What about unorganized areas? Does this mean a truck based in such a community does not have to be licensed?" Mr. McKelvey admitted he didn't have all the answers but stated 90 per cent of all commercial vehicles are based in larger organized cities.

Fairclough To Attend Tea

tempt to get an organization to take over the handling of the Lumby queen's out of town trips. $100 has been set aside to cover the four trips that are anticipated, but it was felt that handling such trips from the village office had not been satisfactory.

IF KELOWNA WAS DESTROYED...

ARMSTRONG (Staff) — Provincial secretary Wesley Black informed members of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association by letter of emergency measure to be taken in case of city government wiped out by nuclear attack.

If Kelowna, for example, was destroyed and the civic government collapsed as a result, the nearest city with a council still intact would govern the area. Former elected officials would also be asked to govern.

British Columbia is divided into six zones by civil defence headquarters, the Okanagan is under the jurisdiction of Kamloops co-ordinator T. W. L. Butters. OVMA member cities have been asked to supply possible candidates to govern in case of attack and partial destruction.

Fined $25 For Damaging Cell

VERNON (Staff) — In police court Thursday, Donald Caswell changed his plea to guilty of wilful damage to the plumbing of the cell block at RCMP detachment headquarters here. He was fined $25 and costs or 14 days in jail in default.

Wednesday he was sentenced to three months in jail on conviction of theft of an automobile. Lisach was fined $10 and costs for driving a car with a faulty muffler.

OMVA MEETING

Gas Company Under Fire For Peachland "Failure"

ARMSTRONG (Staff) — In Thursday for failing to supply land Natural Gas Company the Municipality of Peachland came under heavy fire here with service in agreement with a franchise issued the company by the Public Utilities Commission.

At the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, members authorized Reeve C. O. Whinton, of Peachland, to represent the organization at hearings in Victoria with the PUC. The PUC indicated to the OVMA that the franchise could be cancelled, if no representation was made. This would mean Inland would not be obligated to service the Peachland area with natural gas.

Mr. Whinton said his community was the only organized area in British Columbia not receiving natural gas, and threatened to go it alone in Victoria if he failed to secure OVMA backing.

Ald. Jack Davis, of Vernon, condemned Inland for their failure to live up to their contract and asked members to inform the PUC that if Inland failed to service Peachland, then the entire Okanagan franchise should be lifted from them.

Ald. Clem Bird, of Penticton, said Ald. Davis' proposal would be dangerous for those now being serviced by Inland. He said "we shouldn't cut off our nose to spite our face."

The action was defeated, but Reeve Whinton will have access to all OVMA correspondence, and backing of the association to secure natural gas for Peachland. It was not indicated when Reeve Whinton and the PUC meeting would take place.

No Comment Says Teacher

VERNON (Staff) — Mrs. Ivy Wisemiller, president of the North Okanagan Teachers' Association has declined to comment on a recent statement by school trustee Dr. Jack Turner who appealed to retail merchants here for support in holding the line when teachers are expected to make wage increase demands this fall. Mrs. Wisemiller said last night the executive of NOTA decided Dr. Turner's statement was not that of the entire board but a personal appeal. She declined further comment.

OVMA Supports Change In Voting Regulations

ARMSTRONG (Staff) — A change in the registration period for tenant electors and resident electors to the months of September and October from August and September was endorsed by member cities of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association here Thursday.

Sponsored by Penticton, the resolution was originally initiated by the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce and asked for OVMA backing. The resolution maintained that posting the list of electors; sitting of the court of revision; and posting the revised list of electors could be adequately performed in one month, and maintained the closer the registration period can be moved toward the election (municipal elections are held in December), the more aware the public will be of the polling date.

While Coldstream and smaller communities maintained the shorter time would be a burden on minimum staffs, it was also supported by Kelowna whose city clerk Jim Hudson saw no advantage in the change of registration period.

NOT INTERESTED Ald. Clem Bird, of Penticton said: "We are not particularly interested if it places a burden on staffs or not. We are in office to serve the electors and if this will create greater public interest and participation at polls that's what we want. Our city clerk can do the job, no reason why others can't."

Nevertheless OVMA voted for the resolution and it will be presented at the UBCM conference in Kamloops Sept. 12-14.

OVMA To Meet In Penticton

ARMSTRONG (Staff) — The next meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association will be held in Penticton, July 5. The special meeting will deal exclusively with resolutions to be presented to the annual meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in Kamloops Sept. 12-14. Enderby has bid for the first fall meeting of the OVMA.

FISHERMAN BURNED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Charles D. Anderson, 76, raced through a wall of fire Thursday when gasoline exploded in the engine room of his fishboat. He was taken to hospital suffering severe shock and third-degree burns.

WILL FORM NEW BODY

The '62 Lark carried on, eagerly grappling with adverse road conditions and terrible weather. The Lark swept across the prairies, soared over mountain ranges, mastered speed trials with ease and matched the driver's commands with race car handling. For the second year in a row the '62 Lark has won, beating all comers in the world's longest, most gruelling rally.

What LARK'S Victory Means to YOU

It means you can be sure the Lark is every thing it is claimed to be... fast, dependable, economical, comfortable, sure-footed. Other manufacturers make these claims. Lark proves them!

The features that have proved Lark the unbeatable, long distance rally champion are the very features you want in your personal car. A rugged, powerful engine, superb handling, sensible road clearance, positive braking, amazing economy and more interior room and comfort than any other domestic, family car.

Go to your Studebaker Dealer now. Drive the car that has decisively beaten all other makes and models. Buy a Lark and be assured your car will be the same as the one that won the Rally, won the "Car of the Year" Award, and in winning thousands of new friends and admirers across Canada.

Competition was next to nil for tall, lanky Don Graf in the boys' high jump event, who moves effortlessly over the bar at 5 feet 3 inches to notch first place in this event. Ron has been practising almost every day after school hours and his efforts have not been in vain. Come next year he'll likely be out to break the old record of 5 feet 8½ inches set by Brian Weddell in 1950.

Former Star Indicted For Corruption

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacob L. (Jack) Molinas, attorney and former basketball star, was arrested Thursday on an indictment charging operations to corrupt collegiate basketball.

Molinas is a former Columbia University player, and later a professional, who was barred from that field by the National Basketball Association.

He was placed under arrest at the office of Manhattan District Attorney Frank S. Hogan on five counts, three charging bribery in the alleged payments of $1,000 to basketball player Billy Reed.

Reed, 21, played with the Bowling Green, Ohio, State University basketball team. He lives in New York.

Two other counts charge the 30-year-old Molinas with conspiracy and attempted subornation of perjury. The conspiracy allegedly involves 22 players at 12 colleges, in an attempt to fix 25 basketball games.

Hogan said that Molinas was the "10th fixer" seized in the mushrooming basketball scandal.

FISHING COLUMN IN PAPER AGAIN

Jim Treadgold's column Gone Fishing, a popular weekly feature in The Daily Courier last summer, will again be carried this year, first of which appears today on Page 11.

Treadgold, astute in the art of fishing, reports on conditions in the whole of the Kelowna district, and in general, gives a full account of "who's getting the big ones."

To keep replete in the local fishing world see his opening column on Page 11 today.

GIANTS BLANKED 1-0

Dodgers Closer To Top As They Whip Colts 5-4

The fleet feet of Maury Wills, blanked 1-0 by the third-place St. Louis Cardinals on Bob Gibson's six-hitter.

Wills, who drove in four runs in the first game with the Colts, and scored the decisive run after stealing second the next night, came back for still more Thursday night while the Dodgers were being embarrassed by former teammate Jim Goltz.

Held to two hits going into the ninth inning, the Dodgers got rolling against Houston Colt .45's pitcher, Nereo Martinez, who pitched a shutout for the first time in his major league career. Wills, then whipped the Colts 5-4 in the 10th inning after the swift shortstop got things going with a leadoff single.

It was the Dodgers' eighth victory in nine games, the third in a row in which Wills took charge, and pulled them within three games of the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

Wally Moon's single.

While the Dodgers were creeping up on the Giants, Cincinnati Reds fell back into fourth place with their six-game winning streak cut off by Philadelphia Phillies 9-6.

Milwaukee Braves belted Pittsburgh Pirates 7-2 in the only other game.

LEAD VANISHES

Wills, a .248 hitter, opened the ninth against Golden with his bunt single and when the inning was over Golden was gone, the Colts 4-0 lead had disappeared and the Dodgers had sent it into extra innings.

MAURY WILLS

The Colts built their 4-0 lead with former Dodgers' driving in all the runs. Norm Larker accounted for two with a single, Bob Aspromonte's single knocked in one and Carl Warwick got the other with a homer.

Wills then went to work. His single, one by Jim Gilliam and a double by Moon finished Golden and brought in Bob Tiefenauer (1-3), who was loathed for a single by Tommy Davis. Davis stole second as John Roseboro went down swinging and scored the tying run on a single by Ron Fairly. In the 10th, Gilliam's single and an intentional walk after Wills got on set it up for Moon's game-winning, Ed Roebuck (2-0) picked up the victory in relief.

END WINNING STREAK

The Cards used an unearned run to end San Francisco's 10-game home victory streak after Gibson (5-2) worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth by getting Orlando Cepeda to hit into a doubleplay. Red Schoendienst opened the ninth with a single and pinch-runner Julian Javier stole second and continued to third on a bad throw. Charley Kames then stroked a shot to deep short that drove in Javier. Bill O'Dell (5-1), who also allowed only six hits, lost.

Indians Blank Seattle 2-0

If Spokane Indians are happy about anything these days, it's the pitching of young Thad Tillotson.

The 24-year-old righthander has been stingy with just about everyone in the Pacific Coast League this year, and his 2-2 record stands up well for a club in last place, winner of only eight games in 26.

Thursday night he allowed just three hits in shutting out Seattle Rainiers 2-0, a loss that kept Rainiers from gaining ground on Salt Lake City Bees, the league leaders.

Bees and San Diego were tied by rain, and Portland smothered Tacoma 11-3 in the only other scheduled game.

Tillotson struck out four and walked two in the game at Seattle, which was marked by a mound duel with Pete Smith until the seventh inning.

Then Bobby Prescott broke through with a home run and in the eighth, sacrifice bunts by Tillotson and Dick Tracewski advanced Lib Julian to third. He scored on Nate Oliver's fly to left.

Man-In-Hall's 'Whoosh' Tells Immaculata Tale

The Man-In-The-Hall when interviewed regarding graduation its duration, and the grande finale, had but one comment to release to the press: "Whoosh!"

It was a wild and wonderful week. We were alternately frazzled, rushed, confused, baffled, and dazzled as the first graduating class of Immaculata prepared for the big day.

Monday was the kind of day fired straight from the gun of surprises. It began before the birds started singing in the homes of all the senior girls throughout the Valley. The grade twelve girls had previously arranged with parents that the doors to their houses would be unlocked and as dawn tinted the sky, five carloads of pyramided girls arrived storming upon them and they all went berserk. Great shrieks were bawling the peace of the morning that day. Well, how would you like to be caught all cold-chained and shivering-haired?

Monday also spent the grade 12 crowd in happy as the senior boys made a day of recollection at the church in Rutland. The girls made theirs on the following day while the boys staggered about looking dazed after a late night at a party the night before. (And that's putting it mildly!) Then Wednesday, with the banquet at Capri, and the Prom that night — the high spot of the week thus far, second only to the commencement exercises.

Very formal and very serious was the order with the importance of the occasion stressed by the brand new grown-up air the twelve were sporting then, when they had one-and-a-half feet out of the nest.

TEEN TOWN TOPICS

By RUTH GILLESPIE

As most of you probably know, the Safe Driving Contest is starting tomorrow at 1:00 p.m. sharp. At this date it is too late to enter this rodeo but we would really appreciate to see a very big turnout to watch this special event. It is being held in the Kelowna Park, so let's see you all there.

Well the final nominees for the 61-63 Teen Town mayor have been decided on. I will give them to you just in case you missed them in last week's issue of Teen Page.

They are as follows: Marlene McCormick, Linda Moir, Don McQuinn and Robbie Russell. The campaign speeches will be held at one of the Teen Town dances coming soon. Voting for mayor or council will be held at the school sometime in the near future. So all Teen Town members please come out and vote.

We all took great gasping breaths preparatory for the next day, and suddenly it was upon us.

In the morning we all trotted across the field to Mass — a Solemn High Mass for the occasion — sung by the Glee Club in honor of the graduates and the rest of the day passed in anticipation of the evening exercises.

The gray curtain of passing time was lifted back briefly at noon Friday, and the fog was pierced by an outstanding luncheon put on for the graduates by the grade eleven girls assisted by Mrs. Grieg our Home Ec. teacher. Prophecies written by the eleven, and the Last Will and Testament were read.

The Master of Ceremonies for the affair was, understandably enough by our "Make-em-smile in any case - no matter how - you - do - it" Don McQuinn.

Well the days are slowly crawling by as KHS starts its big dash for a successful completion of the '61-62 school term. Many students have been trying out for positions on the Track team. Many of these took part in the house meet yesterday in City Park Oval.

Plans for Awards Day are progressing quite rapidly and all indications lead to a bigger and better banquet and dance. The Grade 12 Banquet will be held at the Capri Motor Inn on June 7.

The food will be delicious and the heated pool will be available so don't forget to attend. The Awards Day Dance will follow the ceremonies on the evening of June 8. The theme for the dance is "Parisienne" and the 12-piece High School Band will provide the music for the memorable occasion. The Activities at K. J. H. S. this past week or so have centered around our junior high band. On May 4, the junior band took off for Burnaby where they entertained that evening. The following day they played in the Band Festival at Langley. Six bands took part in the Festival. Mr. Knodel, the band master, reported that he was quite pleased with the performance of the band. The band students report a good time on their trip. Mr. Corrado of the junior high assisted Mr. Knodel. Chaperones for the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Borlaas.

Tonight the Langley Jr. Sr. band is playing in our school auditorium. To add to the entertainment our own band orchestra and choral groups will take part.

Practice for the Music Festival is taking place every morning, noon and afternoon. In sports activity, the track and field coaches Mr. Larson, Mrs. Fritz and Miss Wostrowski are having practices

When it came, we were equal to it. For weeks we had been booting high notes in preparation and it paid when the All-Stars Chorus added the last touch of glory to the evening. The graduates stalked solemnly down the aisle, eyes glowing and tassels flying, stunning in pale blue, and the ceremony began.

Peter Olinger addressed the salutatory speech and made a fine job of it. Judy Giroux, tiny and fairy-like peeping out from under her cap was the valedictorian.

And it was over. Brand new adults left the hallowed halls, the eleven seemed to sprout up overnight being our leaders now and no matter how baggy-eyed we look, or how dazed our appearance, we wish we could do it all over again next week, and we won't forget soon the first graduation that took place in our school.

Beauty 'neath the Eiffel Tower, all the latest fashions from Room 13, DKHS, will be shown this afternoon at our Fashion Show. All the girls from grades 8 to 11 will be parading their creations on a stage beautifully decorated Paris-style. Long has Mrs. Dilabough been tearing frantically to and fro getting things ready; long have the girls been hemming and hawing and hemming some more to be sure of a perfect fit and a perfect creation. From carefree cottons to satins and laces, they're sure to be lovely.

Both Mr. Bryant and his band would like to thank all those who came out to our concert on Saturday. It was indeed a huge success, and proof of Mr. Bryant's hard work and the talent of his students. The S. J. Willis Band, with its blue uniforms, was perhaps a little more polished than ours, but we were sure proud of our Knox-ers as they played the lively "Little Bop Riding Hood." Lorna, you should go down in all the fairy tales. Features of the visiting band were a flute solo, and a trombone trio. WE had a trumpet solo, didn't we, Charlie? Mr. Bryant, and Victoria's Mr. Denike were pleased with the impromptu "mass bands" number, which they had rehearsed together only one or two times Saturday afternoon. They're sure thankful that no-one asked them to play "Far, far away!"

Far, far away . . . that's where our Mr. Pedersen is going. He has taken on a job in Tanganyika. How far can you get? But we're sure the Africans will like him as much as we do. And if and when he comes back to Canada, we hope they'll MISS him as much as we will. Whatever will the Bowling Club do now?

Have YOU made a downpayment on an annual? This is for the benefit of a certain one or two hundred tight-wad Knoxers. The Press Club is working awfully hard to make this year's a real book, but NOTHING can be made without a certain little four-letter word . . . CASH!

C'mon, don't you want to see what some sneak has written about you? You never can tell what those personals might be! Proof-reading some on Wednesday we laughed ourselves silly. A certain grade ten boy is going to have a lot of his classmates down his neck!

Mr. Hawker is getting that "Vive la France" look in his eye. If the end of June and his boat don't hurry, he may be the first trans-Atlantic dog-paddler.

Should you see our school turn pink with pride and see a few heads swell with a like emotion, it's only because of the praise Knox High received on Tuesday. A visitor, Mr. Angus MacLean, called DKHS, "An amazing high school," whose students and seemed to enjoy school, despite talk of delinquency at the high school level. Said he, "Mr. Hawker has a fine group of students, and Kelowna should be complimented on the Dr. Knox school."

Say we, "We are pleased to have given an out-of-town visitor such a high opinion of Okanagan schools. The majority of the credit should go to Mr. Hawker, who has made Knox High what it is." Thank-you, Mr. Hawker and Mr. MacLean.

Welcome To Apple Capital

Welcome to Kelowna, Canada's Apple Capital and the heart of the beautiful Okanagan Valley!

Now you are here, you will undoubtedly want to know how best to spend your vacation, and for this reason we at The Daily Courier have prepared this special edition for you, the visitor, as a means of assisting you to a joyful holiday. Once in each week we'll have something new for you, together with information of useful interest.

First of all you will undoubtedly find suitable accommodation at Kelowna and district's many fine hotels, motels, camping grounds and tourist cottages. All of these are in convenient locations, so you may, through the facilities of this special edition, look to the advertisements for all special needs.

We suggest that you park your car in one of the city's convenient parking lots or at your holiday headquarters. There are no parking meters in Kelowna, a refreshing change you will enjoy.

DOWNTOWN STROLL

Next, take a stroll in downtown Kelowna and see our beautiful wide and clean streets, modern stores and fine public buildings. Here you will find all holiday requirements. Look at the main street. It's called Bernard Avenue.

Then walk down to the City Hall Memorial Arena, the new Community Theatre just being built from public subscription, the Yacht Club, the Provincial Government Building, the Museum and, when you have finished call into the Chamber of Commerce for any additional historic or tourist information.

Take your copy of this tabloid with you, conveniently folded and look under "Eating Places" where you will find a variety of places for a snack or a meal.

After you have finished, walk towards the lake—Lake Okanagan.

See the Ogopogo model, a model of our famous lake monster then look towards the Okanagan bridge.

There you will see Kelowna City Park, 41 acres of the most beautiful greenery in B.C. Stroll through the park and see Ogopogo Stadium, home of the world famous Kelowna International Regatta. This year it will be held in August.

Enjoy a swim on the fine beach, let the kiddies play on the swings and enjoy floral displays and trees for a relaxing after-dinner stroll.

Then take your car, drive around Kelowna's fine residential districts to end a day before retiring.

In the following days of your vacation one can drive in any direction to find gardens, orchards, mountain view roads and lakes, none within more than a half hour's drive of the city.

WHAT'S TO DO?

Well, you can swim, fish, hike, camp, water ski, explore, take photographs, bowl, ride, go to the game bird farm, shop for all needs, visit parks with the kiddies and most of all—relax.

We'll have, in this edition, a list of parks, what's on at the movies, service club calendar and other attractions and advice.

But most of all we want you to relax and enjoy yourself. Kelowna is no tourist trap. It's a friendly city whose residents take pride in it and who take equal pride in welcoming visitors.

One of the most popular statements heard here in the winter (which incidentally is equally attractive with skiing and other winter activity) is: "I'll be staying in Kelowna this summer. Where else? I like to meet the nice people who come here anyway."

That's the attitude of Kelowna.

Enjoy yourself, ask as many questions as you want, ask directions, say "Hello" and, when you are ready to return home refreshed in body and mind, remember Kelowna—and come back again.

TOP FISHING

A main sport for summer is trout fishing on the lake. The year 1962 promises to be outstanding in this respect with many big catches already reported. A public marina and boat launching ramp is located right next to the Museum for the convenience of visitors.

GONE FISHING

JIM TREADGOLD

The fishing season should move into full swing this holiday weekend with most mountain lakes being awakened by boats and fishermen plying the waters after a long winter.

Fishermen will be getting down to some serious business with the fish that have been idle and just fattening up all winter.

Mountain lakes in the area, Bear, Beaver, Dee, Postill and McCulloch Dam, are now completely ice free, camps open and roads in good condition.

Fishing in Okanagan Lake has been quite active of late with many good catches of Kokanee and trout reported. The larger trout that were being taken a month ago are not showing up now, just the odd one around 10 lbs. being taken in the north end of the lake, however many trout around 2 to 3 lbs. are being caught, with the Bear Creek area being one of the better spots at present.

No doubt many of the large trout are up the creeks on their spawning runs.

Mission Creek below Gallagher's Falls is closed for fishing till June 30.

Last weekend reports are that Bear Lake was fair with only a few fishermen at the lake, plenty of fish rising.

Beaver Lake has been fair to good with many fish being taken on the white and red flatfish and on the sunken Red Carey fly, using very light leader, 3 to 4x.

Postill Lake, the road in has been well graded and fishing is reported fair.

McCulloch Dam reports a cool-damp weekend with only a few hearty fishermen in.

Woods Lake was good last weekend with many boats on the lake. The lake is producing some very nice 2 to 3 lb. trout and lots of Kokanee. Favorite lure here is the Willow Leaf troll with a Spin-glo or Dick Nite wobbler, about 2 feet behind. This lake will get a big play this weekend.

Last weekend saw some fair reports out of Shuswap Lake, especially in the Narrows area. Many local anglers are planning to fish this lake this weekend.

Hidden Lake at Enderby has been given a big play this spring with dozens of boats out each weekend. One weekend saw 50 boats on this small body of water.

There is no doubt that fishing pressure is increasing in the whole area by leaps and bounds and it will keep the Fisheries Dept. hard pressed to keep up with it.

It is doubtful if the Belgo Dam road will be fit for travel as yet. The sportsmen's good friend, Bert Chichester is stationed at the dam for the summer so drop in and say hello when in the area.

Echo Lake at Lumby has been open for some time with fishing fair. This lake received a lot of ice fishing during the winter and a lot of large trout were taken out then.

Oyama Lake is open but the road in is not passable. It is necessary to walk in a couple of miles.

Penask Lake road will not be open till at least the middle of June.

Pinaus Lake at Falkland opened up a week ago after being closed for some time. This lake has been poisoned and re-stocked and should produce some good fishing.

Rose Valley reservoir has been given big play this spring with some nice catches being reported. This spot produced the derby winner last year—16 lbs. The largest fish entered to date this season was caught by Dick Tuddenham in Okanagan Lake. This one weighed in at 18 lbs.

If going to the mountain lakes, take along a warm sweater and a rain jacket as it can be quite cool and showery at the higher altitudes during this part of the season.

Make sure you have one of the new type fishing licences or the older type marked 1962 or those fish could cost you a lot per pound.

The new fishing regulations have not been issued as yet, so we are still under the old regulations.

About the only change this season will be that Mission Creek above Gallagher's falls will be open for fishing at all times. Below the falls will be closed till the end of June.

Good Fishing.

FAST AND STEADY AND A WINNER

Diminutive Deedee Gourlie makes a last desperate bid to clear the final hurdle and emerge the winner of the Girls 87½ yd. high hurdle in Thursday's Golden Owl inter-house track meet held at City Park Oval. To the left and behind Deedee finishing a close second was Donna Kirschner with Louise Wilson, right, closing the gap and finishing third. Three records were broken and three more were equalled in the successful meet. This year's meet saw 120 competitive entries with some 500 excited fans in the stands cheering on.

More Records Broken At Golden Owl Meet

Three records were broken and three more were equalled yesterday at the Golden Owl inter-house track meet held at the City Park Oval.

In the hop, step and jump event, Jim Kerr smashed the record set by Roger Klingston in 1961, coming up with a new record of 38 feet two inches. Bill Thompson and Stu Jennens were his closest competitors with Jack McCarthy and Don Evans placing fourth and fifth.

The girls' high jump held plenty of tension as Anne Holland equalled the record set in 1950 by J. Sterling of four feet six inches. Anne had little trouble in equalling the record but was unsuccessful in three more tries to break it. Audrey Ling placed second with Lynette Liske third.

Vivian Dore set a new girls' shot-put record of 27 feet one inch. Vivian broke the old record of 26 feet seven inches set in 1958 by L. MacDougall. Judy Field was second and Gwen Reed third.

Janet Emerson made it a three-way tie in equalling the girls' 75 yard dash when she broke the tape in 9.2 equalling the mark set in 1950 by June Minette and again equalled by Lena Culos in 1958. Lorraine Smith notched second spot with Louise Wilson third.

Probably the most exciting event of the day was the boys' 220 with Gerry Robertson hitting the cinders like a bullet to equal Ron Fraser's time of 24.6 set in 1950. Bob Godfrey and Gordon Brown placed a close second and third respectively.

The final record to be broken was the girls' 440 yd. relay race. Blue house chopped 1.3 seconds off the old mark set in 1961 by Yellow house.

Final standings of the inter-house competition: Blue house—65; White house—49; Green house—47; Brown house—42; Yellow house—41½; Red house—36.

Here are the complete results of the meet: 120 yd. boys' hurdles: 1. Doug Perry; 2. Manning; 3. Jack McCarthy. 87½ yd. girls' hurdles: 1. Deedee Gourlie; 2. Donna Kirschner; 3. Louise Wilson. 880 yd. boys: 1. Don Pettman; 2. Pat Crooks; 3. Brett MacLean. Shot put, boys: 1. Bob Street; 2. Gordon Brown; 3. Clive Spiller. Discus, girls: 1. Vivian Dore; 2. Anne Holland; 3. Lynn Carr.

Girls' broad jump: 1. Winkle Buckoltz; 2. Arlene Tonn; 3. Ruth Gillespie. Boys' 440 yd.: 1. Murray Wilson; 2. Doug Perry; 3. Derek Pyle. Boys' 100 yd.: 1. Bob Godfrey; 2. Gordon Brown; 3. Ron Graf. Girls' 100 yd.: 1. Carol Anderson; 2. Deedee Gourlie; 3. Janet Emerson. Boys' mile: 1. Pat Pettman; 2. Don Pettman; 3. Neil Postle. Boys' high jump: 1. Ron Graf; 2. B. Thompson; 3. Jack McCarthy. Boys' long jump: 1. Jim Kerr; 2. Jerry Robertson; 3. Doug Perry. Boys' discus: 1. John Chapman; 2. Gerry Limberger; 3. Marvin Vetter. Pole vault: 1. Bob Godfrey; 2. S. Jennens; 3. B. Horton. ## ABL Style Made To Order For Lucas

CHICAGO (AP)—Abe Saperstein, commissioner of the American Basketball League, said Thursday the signing of Jerry Lucas by Cleveland Pipers will establish the one-year-old ABL in professional sports. He said the ABL style of play is "made to order" for Lucas and predicted the Ohio State University star, who came to terms Wednesday will go to even greater heights in pro competition.

MONEY NEEDED

Vaughan Lyon warned in the society's annual report Wednesday. "We want to carry on with parole supervision but will not be able to do so much longer unless substantial aid is forthcoming to cover the cost."

MORE PEACE WORKERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—River Basin Development is the theme of the 14th annual B.C. Natural Resources Conference, to be held in Kelowna September 5-7. Premier Bennett will open the conference.

Yanks Nip Boston 2-1 Behind Two Longshots

Just when it was needed most, New York Yankees, battered pitching crew got an exhilarating lift in the American League sweepstakes from two longshot prospects—a one-time topflighter battling his way back up and a brand new bullpen ace.

Bob Turley and Marshall Bridges collaborated on a sparkling three-bitter Thursday as the Yankees squeezed by Boston Red Sox 2-1 and into a share of the league lead with Cleveland Indians.

Turley, making his first start since last July, allowed only two singles over seven innings and Bridges, although momentarily kayoed by a line drive that ricocheted off his head, finished up for the victory. Towering right-hander Gene Conley lost a tough one when the Yanks got to him for tainted runs in the final two innings.

In the only other AL game Baltimore Orioles hammered the rookie who no-hit them two weeks ago, beating Bo Belinsky and Los Angeles 6-4 although going without a hit for the last six innings.

DRIVE WAS HALTED

In the six games prior to the masterful Turley-Bridges performance, the Yanks lost four as their pitching was shelled for 49 runs and their drive to take early command of the pennant chase was stopped cold.

Turley, who fireballed his way to the top after being acquired by the Yankees from Baltimore in 1954, was acclaimed baseball's foremost pitcher in 1955 after a 21-7 season and a brilliant world series showing.

But he plunged to an 8-11 mark the next year, recovered to 9-3 in '60, then really ran into trouble last season when arm trouble rendered him all but useless. He finished at 3-5, but underwent surgery for removal of bone chips from his elbow.

Turley made three brief relief stints this season before drawing Thursday's big assignment. Powerful and poised, he altered only in the second when singles by Jim Pagliaroni and Gary Geyer and Carroll Hardy's sacrifice fly produced the lone Boston run.

NATIONAL MEET
OTTAWA (CP)—The first national consumers' conference will be held at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., June 20 and 21, it was announced by the Consumers Association of Canada. A full program of talks and panel discussions on consumer problems has been arranged.

Turley was lifted in the eighth for pinch-hitter Roger Maris, out of the regular line-up with a pulled leg muscle. Maris filed out, but the Yanks went on to win the tying run. Joe Pepitone, who had three of the five New York hits, started the rally with a double and went to third on a wild pitch. Tom Tresh followed with another double.

Mickey Mantle walked against the hard-luck Conley in the ninth, raced to third on a stolen base coupled with Pagliaroni's bad throw to second and scored the winner on Elston Howard's fly.

DRIVE FEELS BRIDGES
Bridges put away Conley leading off the Boston eighth before he was felled by Pete Runnels' line shot. The husky left-hander waved off first aid and a stretcher crew, gave up a single to Ed Bresoud, then proceeded to retire the final four Red Sox in order.

Local Man Appointed District Flag Lieutenant

A Kelowna man has been appointed District Flag Lieutenant in the Canadian Power Squadron, an organization devoted to the knowledge and awareness of Safety afloat by teaching the operation and maintenance of power boats, and safety on the water.

Archie August, who is also Commodore of the Kelowna Yacht Club, received the appointment at the recent Canadian Power Squadron Training Seminar in Vancouver. As such he is ranking C.P.S. officer in the Okanagan.

Dr. Gordon Wilson, Kelowna's Squadron Commander, told a meeting of the local group the Okanagan represents the fastest growing sub-district in Canada with over 60 qualified members now enrolled in the Kelowna and Vernon squadrons. Squadron strength nationally has increased over 2,000 persons in the past year.

An all out effort will be made by Kelowna on an extension of power squadrons in the Okanagan, by exploring the possibilities of formation at Summerland and Penticton thus giving the Valley enough squadrons to become a qualified full district.

RECORD THANKS

OSWESTRY, England (CP)—Fue Robertson, seven-year-old crippled girl from New Zealand, has tape-recorded a "thank you" message to rugby fans back home. Players and spectators there raised £1,000 to send her to a hospital here for spinal operations. Her father, Morris Robertson, captained the New Zealand Kiwi team in 1961.

Lots Of Glory In Unity JFK Reminds de Gaulle

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Kennedy says, in effect, French President Charles de Gaulle can get all the "grandeur" he needs from a truly united Europe and an Atlantic partnership protected by a powerful U.S. nuclear deterrent force.

Firmly opposing de Gaulle's drive for a separate French nuclear deterrent and the French idea of a third world political body, Kennedy said Thursday he would regret any move which would split the Atlantic alliance—with Europe on one side and the U.S. and Canada on the other.

"I am confident that Atlantic unity represents the true course of history," he said in a speech before a trade policy group Thursday night, cautioning his European allies not to take U.S. military aid for granted.

As long as the U.S. put up cash and men for Europe's protection, he would demand a voice in European military affairs, without seeking to dominate Europe's destiny.

WARNS EUROPE

While U.S. troops would remain in Europe as long as they are wanted, Kennedy warned Europe to keep faith with American public opinion or American opposition to isolationism may be shattered.

In the fabric of a united Europe, and an Atlantic partnership, each member country would not lose national identity, he said, but could find opportunity for achievement and grandeur "far greater than it would find in the more traditional and vulnerable fabrics of desunity and mutual distrust."

Earlier, at a press conference, Kennedy said that whether Europe wants to turn to a confederation or federation of states is up to Europe. The U.S. would not interfere with the choice. But the U.S. wants a voice in Berlin affairs "because if the moment of truth comes, it is the U.S. which is expected to take the very vigorous action which could involve our security as well as that of Western Europe."

"And to use an old familiar American expression, we wish to be in on the take-off of these matters."

AMERICAN 'ENOUGH'

He did not believe in a series of NATO nuclear deterrents. One — the American — was enough. Otherwise, France might be followed by other countries in the spread of nuclear forces "until a very solid and, I think, effective defence alliance may be somewhat weakened."

Asked whether a personal meeting with de Gaulle might iron out their differences, Kennedy said such a meeting would be unlikely to bear fruit.

"We'll get along," he said of de Gaulle, because the French president is a stalwart in Western defence, but de Gaulle could not blame the U.S. for disagreeing with him any more than the U.S. could blame de Gaulle.

On the question of a possible political force in Europe — sort of a buffer between the U.S. and Russia — Kennedy said the security of the West is best tied to the Atlantic community and NATO.

"What I would regret would be any effort which would attempt to divide Europe from the U.S. and perhaps Canada, because I believe that the oceans should unite rather than divide. I do not anticipate that that day would come."

SPEAKS IN FRENCH

Prince Philip, speaking in both French and English, said the plaque commemorates the Canadian and European physicists working at the university during the war for their success "in pushing back the frontiers of nature in a dramatic way."

Philip's Study Conference Splits Into Tourist Groups

MONTREAL (CP) — The 300 delegates attending Prince Philip's Second Commonwealth Study Conference have split into 20 separate groups for week-long "study tours" of industrial communities in Eastern Canada.

They left Montreal for various parts of Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Quebec and Ontario Thursday and are not to re-assemble until May 25 in Toronto.

Prince Philip, meanwhile, left on a private fishing trip somewhere in Quebec and will not re-appear in public until Monday when he is scheduled to attend the trooping of the color by the Royal Canadian Regiment in London, Ont.

The conference, a cross-country affair attended by men and women from 34 countries, opened here Monday and is to end June 6 in Vancouver. It is concerned with the effect of industrial change and development on people as individuals.

HEAR ADDRESS

Before breaking up Thursday, the delegates heard an address by Marcel Faribault, president of General Trust of Canada, on French-speaking Canada, and met in private group discussions.

Prince Philip also unveiled a plaque at the University of Montreal in 85-degree heat.

The plaque, on a wall overlooking the square in front of the main university building, names and honors 43 scientists who did atomic research at U of M from 1943 to 1946.

Before the ceremony, Prince Philip was taken on a tour of the university's main campus by the rector, Msgr. Irene Lussier, and had a brief chat with Paul-Emile Cardinal LeGér, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Montreal.

Msgr. Lussier and the cardinal, the university chancellor, accompanied the prince during the ceremony.

Waldorf-Astoria Returns To Normal After Walkout

NEW YORK (AP) — Service employees returned to their jobs at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Thursday after a walkout.

Banquet waiters reported at 11 a.m. as scheduled to complete the complement of service workers who staff the huge Park Avenue hotel.

They were preceded by cooks, bellhops, maids, doormen, elevator operators, chefs and dishwashers.

Thomas J. Kane, resident manager, said everything is normal and that the hotel's five public restaurants and two private clubs are open or will open on schedule today. Full banquet schedules will be maintained.

A meeting of union officers and shop stewards was to be held to discuss the case of eight waiters who were fired by the hotel after a 90-minute waiters' walkout Sunday.

JOINED IN SYMPATHY

The dismissals led to a second strike Tuesday. Other service workers then walked out in sympathy with the waiters, who were disgruntled over the tipping system.

Ex-Constable Tells Court Gambler Knew Of Raids

TORONTO (CP) — Former Constable Robert J. Wright of the provincial police said today that in 1960 gambler Joseph McDermott had advanced information on OPP raids on gaming clubs but it did not come from him.

He told the royal commission on crime that he had been "shocked to learn from McDermott that he knew of impending raids. He could not recall how many times this occurred."

Wright, who has been convicted with McDermott and gambler Vincent Feeley on charges of giving police information illegally, said his contacts with McDermott were to track down information leaks in the provincial police anti-gambling squad.

He said that, on one occasion, McDermott had told him "you don't know so much; there's going to be a raid tonight."

He had been referring to the McDermott-Feeley New Hanover Club at Niagara Falls, Ont.

WOULDN'T TAKE TIPS

Wright said he had asked McDermott on occasions if he was interested in information and McDermott would reply, "I don't think you can give me any."

Wright, 31, said that he was trying on his own to confirm "rumors" that sound Const. George Scott and other officers were supplying information to the gamblers.

Scott subsequently was revealed as an undercover agent working to trace OPP leaks, with official sanction, and it was largely his testimony that convicted Wright and the two gamblers.

CRUSADE FAILED

Wright testified today that he had paid Scott $1,000 — the $2 was not explained for tip-offs, telling his fellow officer that the money came from McDermott while it actually came from his own savings.

Insurance Expert Gives Hint

TORONTO (CP) — K. R. MacGregor, federal superintendent of insurance, said Thursday Canadians may be making a mistake by buying term life insurance, instead of permanent policies, and using the money saved to buy common stock.

Mr. MacGregor, addressing the annual meeting of the Home Office Life Underwriters Association, said the practice resembles notions promoted by tipsters of the 1920s and 1930s.

"It shows the tendency of many persons to trade the permanent for the temporary, the future for the present, all the while seeking more or less at someone else's expense," he said.

He said the best plan is to buy adequate permanent insurance first for long-term protection, leaving investment in common stocks for surplus funds.

AIDS TO HOMEOWNERS Summer Dining Extension

STUDDING ON CONCRETE

QUESTION: We have a large room built as an extension to the house which we use for dining during the summer. This has an asphalt tiled floor on a concrete slab. I want to divide off part of the room to use for storage. How can I fasten the studding for the wall partitions to the floor?

ANSWER: First put down a sill plate (2 x 4, laid flat); for this, drill a hole through the tile into the concrete to receive a lead anchor or expansion shield (available at hardware dealers), then fasten the sill plate in place by bolts. Then nail the studding to the sill plate.

POOR VENTILATION?

QUESTION: When two people smoke, our rooms are blue with smoke. Is this due to poor ventilation and how can it be remedied?

ANSWER: Inadequate ventilation (plus heavy smoking) is the cause. Frequently keeping windows open on opposite side of the house, for only an inch or two at the top, will overcome this kind of stagnant air. Installing exhaust fans, vented to the outdoors, will also remedy the condition.

TESTING WATER

QUESTION: My home is on a community water system. How can I test the water for hardness? Is there any chemical I can purchase for this?

ANSWER: At your pharmacist's, purchase tincture green soap and a bottle with straight tip dropper supplying 50 drops per c.c. To a clean bottle, containing about 50 c.c. (one fourth cup) of the water to be tested, add a drop of green soap at a

You Can Easily Build This Plywood Garden Screen

If a man's home is his castle, he should have a courtyard. Let's call it a patio. Times change.

One thing that hasn't changed with courtyards, patios or terraces is the wish for privacy. And complete privacy and attractive surroundings are certainly more easily achieved today than in baronial times.

You can build this shadow-box screen yourself. It's attractive and guaranteed to keep neighbors out when you're having a family barbecue or in when you're showing your home movies.

With waterproof glue fir plywood and treated lumber frames, you will never live to see your castle wall crumble.

Building it is simple.

Stretch a cord between two stakes to locate the fence line. Dig the post holes two feet deep, four feet apart. If you can't find cedar or redwood posts, use what lumber you can, but treat it with wood preservative. The 4" x 4" posts are for the corners, the 2" x 4"s are intermediate posts.

The "scab" should be sealed to the intermediate posts with thick lead or oil paint, aluminum paint or high-grade exterior house primer. This protects it against deterioration.

A simple way to set the posts exactly four feet apart is to cut a piece of lumber four feet long to use as a spacer. Tamp the dirt lightly around to posts, and use a level or plumb bob to ensure they are vertical.

Posts up, the screen will take shape quickly with the next steps. Edge seal the fir plywood panels with thick lead or oil paint. Use 3/4" fir plywood.

Nail the 1" x 2" battens on both sides of the bottom of the panel, leaving the panel slightly recessed so the batten will act as a drip cap.

According to the exploded diagram, cut to size the 1" x 2" batts and 1" x 1" stops ready for the next stage. Nail the two outside stops along the edge of the panels.

Now find the centre of each post and draw two lines each 3/16" from this centre line as shown in the detail drawing. This will show the position of the panel on the post. To install the panel, position it between the posts by setting it on blocks which will hold it about 4" above the ground line. Nail the opposite stop first to the post then to the panels.

Trim posts flush with the top of the panel. Cut and nail the top rail to the posts. The rail should be flush with the outside of the first and last posts. On intermediate posts joining rails would be butted at the centre line of the post.

Some municipalities place a legal limit on height of fences and screens. It would be wise to check this point with the local building inspector.

For a lasting and attractive finish be sure to use a quality exterior type house paint and follow carefully the recommendations of the manufacturer.

Next step: Take one light snack, one cool drink, one deck chair and one good book. Then you can relax in the screened privacy of your courtyard.

Lots Of Bugs Showed Up In Test Of Spacecraft

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—If Malcolm Scott Carpenter had been aboard his Aurora VII spacecraft on its latest simulated mission, he would have things go wrong just to show what could happen to the actual flight, now set for Saturday.

Everything appeared to progress smoothly on the first or bit. Then problems popped up in quick succession.

The altitude control system acted up, making it difficult to keep the heat shield forward. Then an inverter, an instrument which changes direct current to alternating current, overheated.

Medical monitors noted a minor problem with the equipment transmitting the astronaut's pulse rate.

Suddenly, the electronic clock aboard the capsule, which automatically fires the reverse rockets to bring the craft out of orbit, began losing one second every minute.

Aurora VII was ordered back to earth after two orbits, instead of the intended three, and the capsule landed in the Atlantic Ocean 45 miles from a waiting recovery ship.
